FIRST EXCLUSIVE COLLABORATION:

Le Bristol Paris x Trudon

THE ESSENCE OF A MAGICAL UNION

The alliance of timeless expertise

Since 1925, Le Bristol Paris has embodied elegance and the art of Parisian living. Meanwhile, Maison Trudon has illuminated the world with its delicately scented candles since 1643. When these two institutions combine their expertise, the result can only be exceptional. To celebrate its centenary, Le Bristol Paris partners for the first time with Maison Trudon. Together, they unveil 'Honoré,' an exclusive fragrance available as a candle and an interior spray, custom-designed by perfumer Sidonie Lancesseur.

A historic collaboration

While Maison Trudon has illuminated the grandeur of Versailles and French churches for three centuries, it had never collaborated with a hotel before. This unprecedented partnership marks the meeting of two unique legacies, united by a shared vision of French craftsmanship. With Honoré, Le Bristol Paris and Maison Trudon infuse the air with a fragrance of harmony and tradition that transcends time and enhances elegance. Together, they champion French traditions, the art of living and hospitality, and the nobility of handcrafted work, with an added touch of luminous modern freshness.

An olfactory tribute to Le Bristol Paris

Creating a fragrance for such an iconic place as Le Bristol Paris required a journey through the Parisian palace. Sidonie Lancesseur explored every corner of the hotel: its sunlit garden, its refined rooms, and even its mill where wheat is freshly ground. She captured the scents of flowers, cut herbs, fresh linens, and also those of warm bread and golden wheat. From this sensory immersion came a rich and vibrant composition: soft tothy notes of vetiver and white musk, blended with a powerful heart of cedar and wheat, followed by warm and musky accords. Honoré embodies both the authenticity and boldness of Le Bristol, which has stood the test of time with unmatched elegance. Lighting the candle adorned with the coats of arms of both Houses or spraying a few drops from the green and gold bottle is like diving into the atmosphere of Le Bristol Paris.
